April 28.

To the honorable the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled,

Of Samuel G. Ogden of the city of New-York, merchant,

• THAT your memorialist is under a criminal prosecution for an offence against

Your memorialist is the owner of an armed ship called the Leander, which lately sailed from the port of New York under the command or direction of general Francisco de Miranda, to whom your memorialist chartered the said ship. Your memorialist in his mercantile capacity was an active agent in fitting and providing her for the voyage in which she sailed. And for his agency in this respect he now stands indicted. But your memorialist did not know that there was any law of the United States, which forbade him to act as he has done, in relation to the above mentioned ship, nor could he believe that his acts were criminal, when he was certain that the projects of general Miranda as connected with the expedition of an armament from the U. States had not only been fully communicated to the president and to the secretary of state, but had received their applause and encouragement. When he knew also that the executive officers of the government of the United States, at the city of New York, had a full knowledge of the extraordinary equipments of the Leander, and when he found that no measures were taken to caution your memorialist or to check these preparations.

Your memorialist has not only to complain of the injustice of causing him to be prosecuted as a criminal, but to represent to you the illegal manner of conducting that prosecution, by which the most sacred rights of a citizen have been violated, and the first principles of justice trampled under foot by a magistrate of the United States. That the case of your memorialist may be fully before your honorable body, he will proceed to give a candid history of all the facts which have relation to the offence of which he is accused.

General Miranda is a native of the province of Carracas, in South America, where he spent the earlier part of his life. The inhabitants of that country were represented as groaning under their dependence on a despotic government and anxious to throw off the yoke. Many of general Miranda's countrymen were also stated to have been long desirous of freeing themselves from their bondage, looking to him as their expected deliverer, and ready to receive & unite with him whenever he should bring them a hope of success. It was further

Your memorialist was well assured that this letter was about the latter end of November, communicated to the secretary of state and to the President of the United States; that after it had been some days in the hands of the secretary of state, the receipt of it was acknowledged by him; and that about the last of the same month, general Miranda proceeded to Washington to communicate personally his plan to the government. That immediately after his arrival at Washington, general Miranda visited the secretary of state; that in his first interview he informed the secretary that he desired to make an important and confidential communication to the government as soon as the president should permit it to be received; that at a subsequent interview the secretary of state informed him that having consulted the president on the subject of their former conference, he was authorised to receive his communication; that general Miranda then opened to the secretary of state his object in coming to the United States, exposed the condition of the province of Caracas, the general discontent of its inhabitants, and the ease with which it might become independent, concluding by a request for the countenance and succor of the government. That at a subsequent interview the secretary of state informed general Miranda that he had communicated to the president what had passed in their preceding conference; that the president's sentiments could not be doubted, but that government could afford neither succor nor aid to the enterprise in which he was engaged. That upon this general Miranda remarked that without the countenance of government, individuals might be unwilling to assist him, and the secretary replied that the U. States was a free country, where every one might do what the laws did not forbid.—That general Miranda then observed that the bill depending for prohibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition might impede his measures, and the secretary answered that the bill might not become a law; that general Miranda informed the secretary that he had conferred with cer-part of the secretary of state, that whatever might be done should be discreetly done, and with the understanding on the part of general Miranda, that though the government would not aid his enterprize, it met its approbation and encouragement, and that it would not be opposed; that general Miranda remained at Washington fourteen days and had several interviews with the president and secretary; in which time he wrote to colonel William S. Smith two letters, of which copies follow:

I have received your letters of the 1st and 6th of this month, and our commode's of the 5th. The business you and him mention is on the tapis at this present moment, and will be concluded I hope in the course of this week. Not a moment is lost and the appearances look very favorable—have a little patience and you shall hear soon the result. I hope you will act on your side with as much activity, &c.

Col. Wm. S. Smith.

I saw yesterday for the second time both the gentlemen, and after talking fully on the subject, I think I brought the business to a conclusion. Yet Mr. M. upon hearing my determination of quitting this city to-morrow for New York, appeared surprised, and persuaded me not to leave it before Tuesday next, the 17th, when he expected me to dine with him, and a little more conversation I suppose. On consideration I thought that a stay three days longer might show calm and patience on my part, which would give to this step all the dignity I intended, though I am persuaded that no more will be obtained than what is already imparted. Their tacit approbation & good wishes are evidently secure, and they do not see any difficulty that may prevent the citizens of the United States in attending personally or sending supplies for this object, provided the public laws should not be openly violated. Your demand of permission or leave of absence is considered impracticable, and Mr. M. thinks easier to take the risk upon yourself at once; however we shall consider this subject with much reflection when we shall meet at N. York. On the 18th early I shall certainly leave this city for Philadelphia, from whence I will write to you again, and without much delay proceed to New York. In the mean time I request of you to have every thing ready for departure before the last day of December, and I beg of you to show to our worthy commodore as much as is necessary of this letter, not thinking prudent in me at this moment and on so delicate a subject to write any more; do the same with the major, and repeat to both my most sincere friendship and permanent esteem. When we meet you and they shall hear more on this subject, in the mean time act with much caution and great activity.

New York, 22d Jan. 1806.

MR. PRESIDENT, I HAVE the honor to send you enclosed, the natural and civil history of Chili, of which we conversed at Washington; you will perhaps find more interesting facts and greater knowledge in this little volume, than in those which have been before published on the same subject, concerning this beautiful country.

The last great age foretold by sacred rhymes, Renews its finished course; Saturnian times Roll round again, and mighty years began From this first orb in radiant circles ran.

And very obedient servant,

To Thomas Jefferson, esquire, President of the United States.

New York, 22d Jan. 1806.

Your very humble

FRAN. DE MIRA
To the honorable James Madison, esquire.

ALGIERS, February 22

A number of occurrences have taken place here again, which show very plainly, how much greater the influence of France is with our government, than that of England; and how much more agreeable the person of the French consul was here than that of the English. In the midst of the disturbances, which happened in this state, Mr. Cartwright had succeeded either by cunning or by bribing the officers, to obtain some influence; particularly had he succeeded by these means with the Aga, but to his misfortune, this consequential person died shortly after, and at the very time, when the expectations and reports which he had spread respecting the renewal of the war on the continent, were entirely defeated by the occurrences in Germany. From that period his influence began to decline. The first instance of that he experienced already a few days before the death of his aforesaid protector, when at a divan to be held in the presence of the several consuls, Mr. Cartwright by appearing sooner at the appointed place, tried to snatch from the French consul the accustomed precedence. On the complaint of the French consul, whereby at the same time he laid open the whole conduct of the English towards the Turkish empire, the dey dissolved the divan, which had been convened to decide upon the complaint, made against certain English cruizers, and without entering into any investigation thereof, took the severest measures against the same. A short time afterwards, the English consul attempting to meddle likewise with the affairs of the government, was ordered on the part of the dey, to be only about those which he was not attending sufficiently. He was forbidden the palace of the dey. At the feast of the Ides sent by him to the dey, he was received with him in a disgraceful manner, wherein he received a severe rebuke; the flag sent to him, was cut down, and finally he was ordered to the French consul, without hesitation, acceptance of any circumstance which might have been a disgrace of the English consul, and of a Portuguese consul, in the negotiation for the lives of the English captives. The consul, which was formerly the English consul—

English consul had tried to master of, and on the appearance of Portuguese ships conducted in a manner, that the government suspect, that said consul had information to the escadre of the arrival of three Algerine privateers, which Portuguese prize, valued at 100,000 piasters. This suspicion made a deep impression upon the dey, the Mr. Cartwright to be told to repeatedly declaring in public, that he was a spy, and unworthy of representation by the government. In consequence of this, notwithstanding the endeavours of the part of the English, the consul was expelled from here on board a vessel, which had come over from Algiers, to fetch him.

English consul had tried to make himself master of, and on the appearance of the Portuguese ships conducted himself in such manner, that the government began to suspect, that said consul had given information to the escadre of the expected arrival of three Algerine privateers with a rich Portuguese prize, valued at a million Mr. Cartwright in public that he was repeatedly declaring in public that he was notwithstanding the endeavors made on the part of the English, the consul actually departed from here on board a sloop of war, which had come over from Gibraltar on purpose to fetch him.

LONDON, March 21. OF PEACE.

Bonaparte's proposal, supposing a proposition of a pacific nature to have been bro't over in the flag of truce, proceeds, we must believe, upon the principle avowed in his speech; that he is ready to negotiate upon the basis of the treaty of Amiens. Will not such an offer prove the apple of discord? Has Mr. Fox abandoned his admiration of that treaty? It is evident, from the arguments of his partisans, that he has neither relinquished his opinion that the war was unjust, nor that the rupture of the treaty of Amiens was impolitic. All their observations tend to shew that their sentiments remain unchanged; but that they look for a change in the principles of those who formerly opposed the peace of Amiens.
When they say that the question no longer is now, whether in 1801, the peace of Amiens was a good peace to be made, but what under all the circumstances of this country and of Europe, are the measures most proper to be pursued; they mean, that those who did not think the peace of Amiens good in 1801, must think it good in 1806, the power of France having been so augmented since that period.
But what has lord Grenville said, looking not only retrospectively but prospectively?
He could not contemplate any situation of the country which could justify the making of such a treaty: not nine months are elapsed since he declared, "that the treaty of Amiens had sown the seeds of our present misfortunes in so prolific a soil, that it was impossible the most poisonous fruits should not have sprung from it. The treaty of Amiens had placed the country in such an unfortunate situation, that it was agreed on all hands, that nothing was left to rescue us from its evils but the recurrence of war. Will lord Grenville consent to recur to that treaty which was so productive of evils that nothing could relieve us from them but war? Will he throw away the antidote that he may preserve the bane?
Will he abandon that which he declared to be the remedy, in order to repossess himself of that which he asserted to be the evil? "But circumstances," say the Foxites, "have changed; your objections might be very good in 1801, but see how affairs have altered in 1806. Look at the power of Bonaparte; how increased in size and stature!—how gigantic! Can you hope to diminish his authority upon the continent? Can you dispossess him of Naples, of Genoa, of Germany?" All this is extremely well on the part of France—it would be extremely well in any man arguing in favor of France and siding with Talleyrand. And this is what we complain of in the Foxites; they never see any thing but the power of Bonaparte—the gigantic, irresistible power of Bonaparte.
We recollect that Mr. Fox said last year, in the committee of supply, on the 11th of June, entreating his majesty's ministers to propose reasonable terms of peace, "that he thought the criterion of what was reasonable could only be determined by putting ourselves in the place of the enemy, and to consider what Frenchmen would do. Let us argue not as Frenchmen, but as Englishmen. Let us stand in English shoes.

M. Talleyrand or the Foxites may contend that the position of Bonaparte, and his recent acquisitions, entitle him to demand the restoration of the peace of Amiens.
Let us answer, that the position of Great Britain entitles her to reject such demands, for that our situation has been improved, and our power increased, since that treaty. Those who would have us restore the peace of Amiens, must be prepared to say, that the battle of Trafalgar, and the annihilation of the enemy's navy, are of no value; and that our great English hero has died in vain. We have been successful against the enemy whenever we have met them; defeat and disgrace have attended their arms wherever they have ventured to contend with ours; we have shut them out from the trade of the whole world, from the Adriatic to the Baltic; they are awed and defeated in every bay, port and creek: extension of continental power has added nothing to their means of annoying or attacking us, yet all those advantages are to be of no value. The acquisitions which the enemy have secured, not from us but from other powers, are to induce us to submit to the terms they demand of us, whilst the advantages we have obtained over them are not to give us any right to demand better terms than we have consented to accept before we had gained such advantages. We cannot drive the French from Genoa or Naples, and therefore we are to be willing to negotiate upon the basis of the stipulation of the treaty of Amiens; that is, to give up Malta, and consent to be shut out of the Mediterranean, thereby enabling the French to possess themselves not only of Malta but of Sicily.

If lord Grenville would not have submitted to make peace upon the terms of the treaty of Amiens, when all the continent has not made peace with France, will he consent to such terms now, when all the continent has not made peace with France, and when Russia our ally, has evinced a determined disposition to continue the war with France.

BOSTON, May 22.

From our correspondent at New Bedford, 5th mo. 18th.

"Messrs. RUSSELL & CUTLER,

"Arrived this day, ship Huron, capt.
Clark, 27 days from Nantz. Captain C. brought no papers, but says nothing of much importance had occurred. He understood that an army of 80,000, were about to march from Paris for Denmark; their object to have the Baltic shut against the English. On the 20th ult. saw two English cutters, spoke one, and was informed they were then in chase of a Prussian vessel, and that for 15 days previous, they had sent in all the Prussians they met with. Captain C. heard, however, nothing of war at Nantz, between England and Prussia. Left at Nantz, ship Thomas, Folger, of New York, in 8 days; brig Union, Briggs, from New York, just arrived; ship Sally, Williams, from Charleston, do.; brig Lucy, Peckham, of New Bedford, from Baltimore via England, having been detained there, just arrived.
Several other American vessels, names unknown.

BALTIMORE, May 7.

Arrived last night, sch'r. Federal George, Field, from Boston. Passed two ships in the bay, bound up.

Also, brig Eliza Ann, Thompson, 18 days from St. Pierre, (Mart.) Left there, 9th inst. sch'r. Only Daughter, for New York, next day; a brig from New Orleans arrived there a few days before, with 1800 bbls. flour, which the sold at seven dollars per bbl. the current price.
Off Cape Henry, spoke sch'r. Highland, from Guadaloupe for Alexandria. Passed in the bay, ship Ranger, from Dover. Off Patuxent, Joseph and Phoebe, from Bremen. Off North Point, a light ship. Off Annapolis, sch'r. Somerset, and another schooner in the river.

NORFOLK, May 24.

Arrived, snow Wentworth, Whitesides, 10 days from Barracoa. Capt. Whitesides sailed from Cape Francois on the 27th of April, in the sch'r. Clarissa, Townsend, of and for Philadelphia; on the evening of the next day, in the Caiques passage, was captured by two French privateers and a felucca, and carried into Barracoa, after plundering him of his wearing apparel. On the 6th of May a French felucca privateer, came into Barracoa, who had been engaged with two Baltimore schrs, mounted one long twelve pounder, and had forty men, out of which she had 7 killed, and 18 wounded, her bows and quarter rove in, her hull rigging and sails greatly injured. The privateersmen, declare that in consequence of this action, they will put to death every American they meet coming from St. Do-
ter from this port, discharging;—M. Laughlin, of and from Charleston, bound to Jamaica, was taken by a French privateer, detained two days, given up and allowed damages, and was to fail in a day or two; John, Hathaway, to fail from Jamaica in a day or two.

Ship Ticonderoga, Parsons, 55 days from Plymouth —Left there the 22d March, the following vessels detained: ship Franklin, Dana, to fail for London the first fair wind, part of her cargo, damaged; brig Two Marys, Bourne, of Boston, bound to Holland, cargo landed partly damaged; ship Ambition, of New-York, bound to Antwerdam, part of the cargo landed; brig Lydia, of Plymouth, (Mass.) bound to Antwerp, under quarantine; brig Dragon of do. from Lisbon bound to Corunna, released.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

THURSDAY, MAY 29.

A rumor was afloat yesterday, of intelligence having reached Baltimore, that his imperial and royal majesty of France and Italy, Bonaparte, had commanded the government of the United States to interdict all commerce between Great Britain and the said states. We do not know whether there are just grounds for such a report; but we are among those who think such a demand neither so distant nor improbable as some might imagine. If we look to the state of Europe, and observe with what promptitude the decrees of Bonaparte have been acquiesced in by powers greater in resources of men and means than we can pretend to, it would not be very unreasonable to expect it; nor could the ideas of a stretch of power so extraordinary be deemed either presumptuous or unwarrantable. Indeed the partial and impolitic proceedings of our national legislature cannot, in our judgment, fail to accelerate a demand so degrading and humiliating to our country. And while they evince to the world a disposition so hostile to G.
Britain and so favorable to France, it is not improbable that the eagle-eyed Bonaparte should overlook a conduct so suitable to his views, so necessary to his interests, and so ultimately connected with his vast designs. When such demand shall be made let the crim-on of indignation cover the face of every American, or let the Declaration of Independence be blotted from the tablet of our memory, and the proud title of American be forgotten forever.

JAMES KENNEDY, SEN.
KING-STREET,
RESPECTFULLY informs the public that he has received, from LEE & Co's Patent and Family Medicine Store, New-York, a fresh assortment of the following
Valuable Medicines,
Which are in high esteem and general use throughout the United States, many of them being sold cheaper than the drugs of which they are compounded could be purchased at a retail store.

TAKE NOTICE
That J. Kennedy, sen. is appointed the only agent for ALEXANDRIA.

Dr. HAMILTON'S ELIXIR,
A sovereign remedy for Colds, Obsolete Coughs, Asth-mas, Catarrhs, Sore Throats, and approaching Consumptions.
To Parents who may have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it is an immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

From LUTHER MARTIN, Esq. Attorney-General of the State of Maryland.
Gentlemen,
I comply with your request in stating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been used in my family for two or three years past, with uniform success, whenever colds, coughs, or similar complaints have rendered medicine necessary. I have myself found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troublesome affection of the breast, accompanied with soreness and with obstructed and difficult breathing.
On these accounts I do not hesitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir, as a valuable medicine, and deserving public attention.

LUTHER MARTIN.
Mr. Abijah Henry, Bridge-street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's elixir of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper: he has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints and desires to give this public testimony in favor of his invaluable medicine.

Dr. Hamilton's GRAND RESTORATIVE, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures—juvenile indiscretions—residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution—the immoderate use of tea, frequent intemperance, or any other destructive intemperance—the unskillful or excessive use of mercury—the diseases peculiar to females and certain period of life—bad living in, &c. &c.
And is proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalleled in the cure of Nervous Disorders, Violent cramps in the Stomach and back, Consumptions, Indigestion, Lowness of spirits, Melancholy, Loss of appetite, Gout in the stomach, Impurity of the blood, Pains in the limbs, Hysterical affections, Relaxations, Inward weakness, Involuntary emissions, Seminal weakness, Fluorbus (or whites), Barrenness, Impotency, &c. &c.
In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair, a perseverance in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

HAMILTON'S ESSENCE AND EX-TRACT OF MUSTARD,
A safe and effectual remedy for gout, rheumatism, palsy, sprains, bruises, pains in the face and neck, &c.
And has performed more cures in the above complaint than all the other medicines ever before made public.

From Dr. Weatherburn, Wylho country, Virginia.
GENTLEMEN,
I purchased at your shop the preparations you call Hamilton's Essence, or Extract of Mustard, which I believe has perfectly removed a chronic rheumatism (of that kind named sciatica, or of the hip joint) under which I had labored for a long time, and which had baffled every article in the Materia Medica, and every mode of treatment received into practice for the cure of this obstinate disease. If you think this letter useful you are at liberty to make it public.
Yours, &c.

W. WEATHERBURN.
John Hoover, rope maker, South Second Street, be-Mary and Christian Streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily ly maketh oath as follows, namely, That his wife, Mary Hoover, was so severely afflicted with a violent rheumatism, very dangerously situated the consequence of a severe cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for several weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehension of remaining a cripple for life, notwithstanding the most respectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted: when seeing several cures of cures performed by Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No 17, South Second Street. The first application enabled her to walk across the room, and the use of one bottle restored her to her usual state of health and strength.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,
Which have within four years past cured upwards of one hundred and twenty thousand persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or faults in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever of similar cure, to commonly complained of as operating with violence, on the contrary a particular excellence of this it contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body, but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. They are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and corruptions; feverish and bilious complaints and the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on the occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz. the Tere or large round worm, the Alcaides, or small maw worm, the Cucurbitina, or short flat, white worm, and lastly, the Tania or tape worm so called from its resemblance to tape; this is often many yards long, and is full of joints—it is most hurtful and most difficult to cure.
Among the symptoms attending worms, are disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—Bad and corrupted gums—itching in the nose, and about the feet—Convulsions and epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech—Starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep—Irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious—Purging, with slimy and fetid stools—Vomiting—Large and hard belly—Pains and sickness at the stomach—Pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—Slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—A dry cough—Excessive thirst—Sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's worm destroying lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children, a dreadful disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our cities. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known and has restored to health and strength a great number when in advanced stages of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness, having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

CASES OF CURES—
By Hamilton's
WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES, (Selected from thousands) the authenticity of which any person may ascertain either by letter or personal application.

TAPE WORM.
Mr. SAMUEL FULLER, Inn keeper, on the Harford road, ten miles from Baltimore, began about twenty months ago to be grievously afflicted with a tape worm, which increased fast in size and strength, so as to excite the most horrid sensations by his writhing motions, and intolerable pains, resembling the gnawing and tearing of his bowels, which deprived him of his necessary sleep, and caused such dreadful apprehensions as cannot be conceived but by one in a similar situation—his appetite waned rapidly, and with that his strength, so that he was unable to attend to any business—when he heard of some excellent cures performed by Hamilton's worm lozenges, he took a large dose, which brought away a but FOUR YARDS of the worm (now in the possession of Lee & Co.) but a renewal of his pains soon convinced him that this monstrous reptile had recovered its first vigor—Application was made to Lee & Co. for more of their medicine, with their advice, from which refused the total expulsion of his formidable enemy, in several pieces, which he supposed to be SIX or EIGHT YARDS more. A few months have since elapsed, and Mr. Fuller is now in perfect health. The above facts are well known to a numerous circle of his neighbors and himself will gratify any who may wish to make further inquiries on the subject. Although Hamilton's worm lozenges produce such powerful effects, when necessary, yet they are perfectly innocent and mild in their operation on the human body, even taken in large doses, as Mr. Fuller will testify—their particular mild-ness is abundantly evident in innumerable cures of infants.

Communicated by Dr. John Spangler, York town, Pennsylvania.
Letter from the reverend Mr. JOHN MOLTHER minister of the Moravian church, in York town.
York, January 4th, 1802.

DEAR SIR,
Dr. Hamilton's lozenges have been recommended to me as a very adequate means for the cure of children afflicted with worms, I procured a box for the use of my family, to try whether by means of this medicine I might be enabled to gain a point, which, to accomplish, different other means had proved abortive. My eldest boy had a very sickly appearance, was very restless at night, grew leaner from time to time; in short, he seemed to be in a precarious state of health, which would yield to none of the medicines administered, until I gave him two doses of lozenges, agreeably to the directions, which carried off a substance to all appearance a mere mucus but upon close inspection quite revealed with very small living animals. Not one of that sort of worms which usually afflict children came from him. Since that period he grew remarkably better in health, and though lean, has got a fresh and lively complexion. Upon different occasions I have used this medicine as a purging substitute, and found it to answer exceedingly well, without bringing on belly ache, or any other disagreeable sensations, so often occasioned by purgative medicines. Upon the which I judge this medicine to be, besides its main object, one of the most salutary means for restoring lost appetite, and promoting a proper state of digestion, by carrying off that bilious substance, which engenders so much indisposition both among children and adults.
I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,
JOHN MOLTHER.

Dr. Hahn's true and genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving pain.

The genuine Persian Lotion, So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, as an invaluable cosmetic perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in preventing and removing blemishes in the face and skin of every kind, particularly freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurs, tetter, rings worms, yaw burns, prickles heat, &c.
The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding that natural, insensible perspiration, which is so essential to health. Yet its salutary effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and clear, improving the complexion, and restoring the bloom of youth. Never failing to render an ordinary countenance beautiful, and an handsome one more so.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts & strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to in time finally ruin them.

Dr. Hahn's genuine Eye-Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident, distensions of rheum, dullness, itching and films on the eyes, never failing to cure those ma-ladies which frequently succeed the small pox, measles and fevers, and wonderfully strengthening a weak sight. Hundreds have experienced its excellent virtues, when nearly deprived of sight.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

The sovereign Ointment for the Itch.
Which is warranted an infallible remedy in every application, and may be used with perfect safety on pregnant women or on infants a week old, containing not a particle of mercury, or any other dangerous ingredient whatever, and is not accompanied with that tormenting smell, which attends the application of other remedies.

The Anodyne Elixir.
For the cure of every kind of head ache.

Indian Vegetable Specific.
A safe and speedy remedy for the venereal disease.
"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."
For the prevention and cure of bilious and malignant fevers,
IS RECOMMENDED

Dr. Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off infernal bile, and prevent its morbid secretions, to restore and amend the appetite, to procure a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds, which are often attended with fatal consequences, as diseases never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness; sickness at the stomach, and severe head ache; and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

Thirty Dollars Reward.
RAN AWAY from the subscriber this day, after having feloniously carried off, on the night of the 20th inst. a large trunk and chest of wearing apparel and other articles (which have since been recovered) a Mulatto servant slave, named MOSES, who calls himself Moses Gaiman.
He is 45 years of age, about 5 feet 8 inches high, tolerably well formed, has a concealed countenance, is very artful and villainous, and may impose himself as a freeman. He had on when he went off, a green cloth short coat with yellow metal buttons, a white striped Marcelline vest, olive colored corduroy breeches, white cotton stockings, and shoes; all his other clothes have been secured, but he may change those he wore away. He is however pretty generally known to be my slave, having lived in my service and travelled about with me for the last twenty years. I will pay the above reward to any person who will bring him home or secure him in any jail so that I get him again.
